Continuation of Substance of Interview including description of the general nature of what was agreed to if an agreement was reached, or any other comments: The claims were amended via examiner's amendment. The amendment to the claims clarifies that a "strong name" is a unique identity that is assigned to the driver package, which may be used to identify the driver package on any computing device (paragraph 0018). The strong name may be used as the basis for assigning the driver package and related driver files unique subdirectory locations in a common storage, regardless of whether the driver package and related driver files share a name with other driver packages and related driver files (paragraph 0009). As a result commonly named driver files from different driver packages may be installed side-by-side on the computing device. Furthermore, none of the driver image files with common names overwrite another regardless of the order that they are installed into a drive store on the hard drive of the computer (paragraph 0038).
